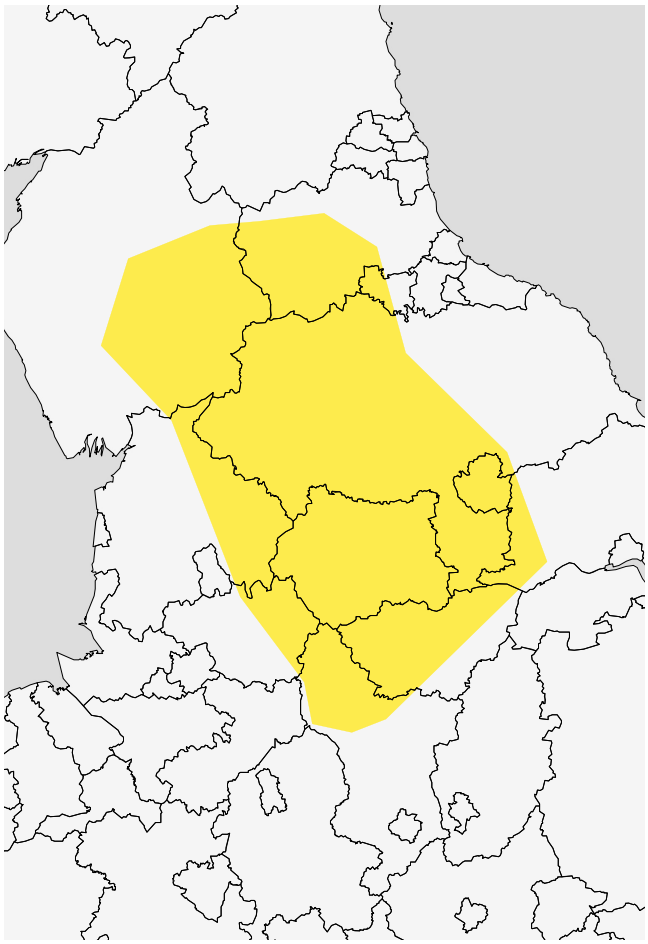
15:00 Sat 26 Oct 2019



Heavy rain is expected during Friday and Saturday which may lead to flooding.

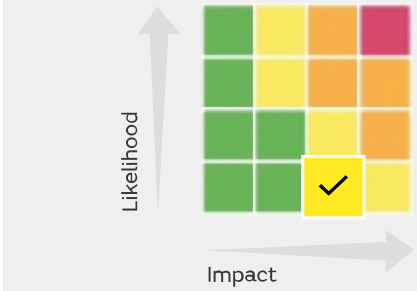
What to expect

- There is a small chance that homes and businesses could be flooded, causing damage to some buildings
- There is a small chance of fast flowing or deep floodwater causing danger to life
- Where flooding occurs, there is a slight chance of delays or cancellations to train and bus services
- Spray and flooding could lead to difficult driving conditions and some road closures
- There is a small chance that some communities become cut off by flooded roads

Further details

Rain is expected to arrive across northern England on Friday and become heavy and persistent, lasting into Saturday. A little snow is possible for a time across the higher Pennine routes. The rain should clear away southeastwards on Saturday afternoon. There remains some uncertainty in the northern extent of the heaviest rain.

Some 25-40 mm of rain is likely quite widely with as much as 70 mm in places, especially high ground.



Very low likelihood of medium impacts
